IT Support Services

With today's deadline-driven IT demands and tight project cycles companies need to maintain a dynamic mix of in-house staff and contract professionals. SofTec Solutions supplements your staff to meet critical project timelines.

When consultants are used as part of a staffing plan their function is two-fold: to effectively transfer knowledge and supplement the skills and expertise of full-time employees.

SofTec Solutions holds the key to your staffing demands, for short term or extended projects. We will provide you with the best resources for your outsourcing requirements.

Offerings:

IT Support Services:

- Capability for immediate start-up with minimum risk
- Maximum contractor integration without personal services
- Professional benefits package and recruiting program that enables us to recruit and retain the required IT staff
- Proven management approach that provides quality management techniques with minimum cost
- Quality small business with experience supporting complex IT programs
- Secret facility clearance

Competencies:

Our IT Support Services expertise includes the following areas:

- Application Development
- Back Office Support (accounting, word processing)
- Configuration Management (CM)
- Database Administration (Oracle, SQL Server, etc.)
- Enterprise Solutions
- Help Desk Support
- IT Facility Operation and Maintenance (O&M)
- IT Documentation and Training
- IT Infrastructure
- IT Systems Analysis and Development
- Information Security - Information Assurance
- Network Operations (LAN/MAN/WAN), Design and Management
- Program/Project Management
- System Design and Integration
- Technical Support Services
- Web Design and Maintenance
- Testing

It is important to consider both technical and non-technical skill sets when identifying job requirements. At SofTec Solutions, every candidate is assessed via an effective interviewing process, identifying core competencies. Two of our major strengths are the industry knowledge and technical experience of our recruiting staff. Each recruiter has an extensive background in one or more specialized areas of technology. They are dedicated to providing you with superior candidates, precisely matched to your technical and professional environments.

By providing access to the very best IT skills available, SofTec Solutions helps you devise an effective strategy for utilizing supplemental resources.

Client Testimonials

"I would like to thank SofTec for providing support to our office. Their on-site support staff has performed beyond our expectations and their corporate management has been a pleasure to work with. I would highly recommend SofTec Solutions to other Government agencies."
